INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Management
Grow It Forward, Inc.
Manitowoc, Wisconsin

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Grow It Forward, Inc. (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Grow It Forward, Inc. as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Grow It Forward, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Grow It Forward, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are issued.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Grow It Forward, Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Grow It Forward, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control–related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTE 1 - Nature of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Organization - Grow It Forward, Inc. (the "Organization") is an anti-hunger organization founded in 2014. The Organization uses good food to build community and feed change in Manitowoc County. Its mission is to provide people in need with dignified access to good food, along with opportunities to grow, cook, share and advocate for it.

Basis of Accounting - The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and, accordingly, reflect all receivables, payables and other liabilities.

Basis of Presentation - The accompanying financial statements are prepared in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) as codified by the Financial Accounting Standards Board.

The Organization is required to report information regarding its net assets and its activities based on the existence or absence of donor or grantor imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions - Net assets available for use in general operations and not subject to donor or certain grantor restrictions.

Net Assets With Donor Restrictions - Net assets subject to donor or certain grantor imposed restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time or other events specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature, where the donor stipulates that resources be maintained in perpetuity. Donor-imposed restrictions are released when a restriction expires, that is, when the stipulated time has elapsed, when the stipulated purpose for which the resource was restricted has been fulfilled, or both.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - The Organization's cash consists of cash on deposit with banks. For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Organization considers all unrestricted, highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Organization does not have any cash equivalents as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Accounts Receivable - Receivables are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management estimates expected credit losses using a model that incorporates historical loss experience, current conditions, and reasonable forecasts of future economic factors. If the financial condition of the Organization's customers were to deteriorate, adversely affecting their ability to make payments, additional allowances would be required. Based on management's assessment, the Organization provides for estimated uncollectible amounts through a charge to earnings and a credit to a valuation allowance. Balances that remain outstanding after the Organization has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance and a credit to accounts receivable. Management believes all receivables are collectible, accordingly, no allowance has been recorded.

Grants Receivable - The Organization receives government grants that are on a reimbursement basis. Grants receivable include claims made on the grant for the current year spending. Management believes the balance in grants receivable is fully collectible as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

NOTE 1 - Nature of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies - Continued

Promises to Give - Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of estimated future cash flows. The discounts on those amounts are computed using a nominal interest rate applicable to the year in which the promise is received. Amortization of the discounts is included in contribution revenue. Conditional promises to give are not included as support until the conditions are substantially met. Management provides for uncollectible amounts through a provision for uncollectible pledge expense from outstanding balances and an adjustment to a valuation allowance based on its assessment of the current status of individual pledges. Balances that are still outstanding after management used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance and a credit to unconditional promises to give. Management believes all receivables are collectible; accordingly, no allowance has been recorded.

Inventory - Inventory consists of purchased and donated food. Purchased food is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Donated food is valued at the approximate average value per pound using an average of various retail prices per pound through the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics or various retail chain stores. Inventory is generally used on a first-in, first-out basis, but spoilage dates are also considered. Donated food/other product is reflected as in-kind contributions in the statements of activities.

Property and Equipment - All acquisitions of property and equipment in excess of $1,000 with useful lives greater than one year are capitalized. Purchased property and equipment are carried at cost. Donated property and equipment are carried at the approximate fair value at the date of donation. Depreciation is computed on the straight-line method based on the following estimated useful lives:

Asset	Life
Buildings	39.5 years
Building improvements	5 - 15 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 - 15 years
Equipment	5 - 15 years
Vehicles	5 years

Valuation of Long-lived Assets - U.S. GAAP requires that long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangible assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Management reviews all material assets annually for possible impairment. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment recognized is measured as the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the estimated fair value of the assets. No assets are considered to be impaired at December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Deferred Revenue - Payments received during the year for future services are deferred and recognized as income when earned.

Revenue Recognition - The Organization records the following exchange transaction revenue in its statement of activities and changes in net assets:

Special Event Revenue - Ticket Sales and Sponsorships: The Organization conducts special events in which a portion of the gross proceeds paid by the participant represents payment for the direct cost of the benefits received by the participant at the event - exchange component, and a portion represents a contribution to the Organization. Unless a verifiable objective means exists to demonstrate otherwise, the fair value of meals and entertainment provided at the special events is measured at the actual cost to the Organization. The contribution component is the excess of the gross proceeds over the fair value of the direct donor benefit. The performance obligation is the delivery of the event. The event fee is set by the Organization. The Organization combines in the statements of activities the exchange and contribution components of the gross proceeds from special events. Special event fees/sponsorships collected by the Organization in advance of its delivery are initially recognized as liabilities (deferred revenue) and recognized as special event revenue after delivery of the event. For special events fees received before year-end for an event to occur after year end, the Organization follows AICPA guidance where the inherent contribution is conditioned on the event taking place and is therefore treated as a refundable advance along with the exchange component.

Special Event Revenue - Food and Beverage Sales: As part of the special events, the Organization provides food and beverage to attendees for purchase. The performance obligation is the exchange of food and beverages for cash. Revenue recognition occurs when the product is delivered to the customer.

Program Revenues: The Organization operates Harmony Café, where guests purchase food and beverages developed as part of their programing. The Organization also operates a farm and garden where they sell various products grown in that program. The performance obligation is the exchange of food and beverage for cash. Revenue recognition occurs when the product is delivered to the customer.

Rental Income: Individuals and companies can rent out space at the Organization for the farmers market, gardens, and other events at the community center. The Organization has established rates for the various rental opportunities. The performance obligation is providing the various rental activity on the agreed upon date. Deposits are received on these activities and are included in deferred revenue until the event occurs at which time a final payment is received and the revenue is recognized in full.

Merchandise Sales: The Organization sells merchandise. The performance obligation is the delivery of the good to the customer. The transaction price is established by the Organization based on reasonable retail prices. As each item is individually priced, no allocation of the transaction price is necessary. The Organization recognizes revenue as the customer pays and takes possession of the goods.

Contribution Recognition - Contributions are recognized when received or unconditionally pledged. Conditional contributions and promises to give, are recognized as revenue when the barriers to entitlement are overcome and either a right of return of assets transferred or a right of release of a promisor's obligation to transfer assets is removed. Contributions received are recorded as net assets without donor restrictions or net assets with donor restrictions depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Contributions restricted by donors are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions if the restrictions expire in the reporting period in which the revenue is recognized. All other donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions, depending on the nature of the restrictions.

Contributions that are not restricted by the donor are reported as an increase in net assets without donor restrictions. When a restriction expires, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Grant Recognition - Grants are either recorded as contributions or exchange transactions based on criteria contained in the grant award:

Grant awards that are contributions - Grants awards that are contributions are evaluated for conditions and recognized as revenue when conditions in the award are satisfied. Unconditional awards are recognized as revenue when the award is received. Amounts received in which conditions have not been met are reported as a refundable advance liability.

Grant awards that are exchange transactions - Exchange transactions are those in which the resource provider or grantor receives a commensurate value in exchange for goods or services transferred. Revenue is recognized when control of the promised goods or services is transferred to the customer (grantor) in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Amounts received in excess of recognized revenue are reflected as a contract liability.

In-Kind Contributions - The Organization records the value of donated goods when there is an objective basis to measure the value. Donated goods are reflected as in-kind contribution revenue and donated fundraising items are included in special event revenue in the accompanying statements of activities.

Donated services are recognized as contributions if the services a) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or b) require specialized skills that are performed by people with those skills and would otherwise be purchased by the Organization. Such amounts, which are based upon information provided by third-party service providers, are recorded at their estimated fair value determined on the date of contribution.

A substantial number of volunteers have made significant contributions of their time to the Organization’s program and supporting services. The value of this contributed time is not reflected in these financial statements because the criteria for recognition have not been satisfied.

Functional Allocation of Expenses - The costs of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the program services and supporting activities benefited. Those expenses include salaries and wages, employee benefits, payroll taxes, insurance, and certain office expenses, which are allocated based on estimates of time and usage as determined by management.

Advertising Costs - Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Use of Estimates - Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 1 - Nature of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies - Continued

Tax Status - The Organization is exempt from Federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). However, income from certain activities not directly related to the Organization's tax-exempt purpose is subject to taxation as unrelated business income. In addition, the Organization qualifies for charitable contribution deductions and has been classified as an organization other than a private foundation. The Organization is also exempt from State taxation.

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes - U.S. GAAP requires management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Organization and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the Organization has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by a taxing authority. Management has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Organization and has concluded that as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements. The Organization is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions, however, there are currently no audits in progress for any tax period. The Organization will recognize future accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in income tax expense if incurred.

Reclassifications - Certain accounts in the prior year financial statements have been reclassified for comparative purpose to conform to the presentation of the current year's financial statements.

Subsequent Events - The Organization evaluated subsequent events through November 24, 2025, the date which the financial statements were available to be issued.

NOTE 2 - Concentration of Cash and Credit Risk

The Organization may have deposits with a financial institution at times during the year that exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insurance threshold of $250,000. The Organization's deposits at December 31, 2024 and 2023 did not exceed the FDIC insurance threshold. The Organization does not require collateral or other security to support deposits subject to this credit risk.

NOTE 3 - Liquidity and Availability

Liquidity Management

The Organization maintains a policy of structuring its financial assets to be available as its general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations come due.

To help manage unanticipated liquidity needs, the Organization has a committed line of credit of $40,000, which it could draw upon. Refer to Note 6 for line of credit information.
